To whomsoever it may concern,

I'm writing this in reflection of Arya Sharma's time at our organisation as a Junior Associate Developer intern. I had the pleasure of working closely with him, and I believe He is an excellent fit for your program. Here are some highlights:

Technical Skills	He has a firm grasp of web application development technologies, including HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and PHP, MySQL. And has applied this knowledge effectively to solve real-world problems.
Problem-solving	He is a resourceful problem-solver. And approaches challenges creatively and has a track record of finding solutions efficiently.
Team Player,	He works well in a team. And communicates effectively, actively participates in discussions, and contributes positively to group projects.
Adaptability	He adapts well to changing project requirements and tight schedules, showing resilience and flexibility.
Initiative	He is eager to learn and stay updated with industry trends and technologies.

I am confident that He will make a valuable addition to your team and thrive. Please feel free to contact me at hr@calanjiyam.com or karan.cct@gmail.com, +918667280728 if you need further information or have any questions regarding him. I wholeheartedly support their application and believe they will excel in your dynamic environment.

Thank you for considering him for this opportunity.
